Welcome!Meet

Billy WoomerRPAC Realty, Sales Associate

Billy has always had a passion for real estate but he "grew up" in the entertainment business working as a child actor, game show talent coordinator, television casting associate, and studio executive. After a successful run as Vice President Drama Casting for 20th Century Fox Television, where he was known as "Tony Martinelli", he made the leap into real estate and quickly put his superior management and negotiating skills to work. Now almost 20 years later, Billy's passion for real estate remains strong. He welcomes new clients and enjoys a strong referral and repeat business which reflects his "above and beyond" approach. His clients appreciate his comfortable style of working which gives them confidence during the often-challenging process of selling or purchasing a home. Billy is humbled to have earned only 5-star reviews from his past clients. Be sure to check out those Client Reviews. Looking to buy or sell? Call, text, or email me. I promise a fast response. ~
