My practice includes not only such traditional estate planning documents as wills and trusts, but also other documents that are essential for protecting unmarried couples who do not automatically enjoy the legal benefits of marriage, whether these be opposite-sex couples or same-sex couples. Such documents may include hospital visitation authorization, the appointment of a partner to be the agent for the disposition of remains, co-custody agreements, and living together agreements. I can also help you with probating an estate or with an adoption.
