We understand the dilemmas facing the LGBT community on legal matters within the state of Florida. We are constantly pursuing, and are involved in advancing, the rights of LGBT citizens. Our experienced lawyers have been providing the highest caliber of legal services to Central Florida clients since 2000. It's easy to get lost in the shuffle when you're one of many clients. Schlegel Law Group is a boutique Orlando law firm, and now serving Miami. We specialize in a wide range of family matters, including wills within estate planning, working with both same-sex and traditional couples. We're selective in the cases we accept. By limiting our case load, we're able to give our clients a higher level of attention than large law firms can provide. Legal representation is more than just going to court. We'll work with you to strategize, analyze and keep the process moving in the right direction. We rely on our years of experience handling family law matters to guide you with confidence. We're straightforward about what your expectations should be. We don't over-promise. The fact is not all battles are worth fighting. We prefer to give you a realistic assessment of the situation including costs and let you make an informed decision. Your case is important. You have a right to know its status at all times. We'll keep you up to date every step of the way, whether it's via email, Skype, phone or text. Unlike many larger law firms, when you have questions, you'll always speak with a family law specialist who personally knows the details of your case. You'll find we answer emails promptly, return calls, copy you on all documents and finish tasks on time. If you're going through a divorce or some other family-related problem, you're under a lot of stress. No doubt you realize the implications of your situation.
