Our team of male and female professionals provide specialized counselling and support for a wide range of issues and concerns. Research has proven that the fit between therapist and client is the most important part of the relationship. We offer a limited number of complimentary sessions every week for new clients to come for a meet and greet assessment. During the initial meeting we will discuss with you what the challenges are and discuss possible treatment plans and solutions. We also offer Neurofeedback, an advanced treatment for bringing calm and stability to symptoms of Anxiety, Panic Attacks, Trauma and OCD. Give us a call and we will arrange an appointment for your complimentary assessment, getting you started more easily and comfortably.
