With over 30 years of experience in the finance industry, I'm not just a mortgage lender; I'm a proud member of the LGBTQ+ community who understands the unique concerns and challenges we face—because I live them too. When you're making one of the most important decisions of your life, such as purchasing a home, it's essential to work with someone who truly gets it. For many in our community, the homebuying process goes beyond just interest rates and paperwork. It's about feeling safe, respected, and heard. Concerns like, "Will my neighbors be accepting, or will I face harassment?" or "Is this neighborhood inclusive, or will I be dealing with bigotry?" are valid questions that many people outside the LGBTQ+ community may not fully grasp. It's crucial to have a realtor or mortgage lender who understands these concerns, not just from an intellectual standpoint, but from lived experience. As someone who has been through the process myself, I know firsthand the importance of having a trusted ally who recognizes the complexities of being LGBTQI—I'm here to guide you through all of that, with the sensitivity and care you deserve, ensuring that every step of your homebuying experience is affirming, straightforward, and free from judgment. I am committed to being responsive, trustworthy, and an advocate for all my clients. My deep understanding of some of the personal challenges our community faces is why you can feel confident that I'll always have your best interests at heart. Together, we'll navigate the process with the confidence that comes from knowing you're in knowledgeable, supportive hands. Thank you for considering me as your trusted partner in this journey. Let's make your homeownership dreams a reality, with someone who truly understands your needs. Contact me today to get started and experience the difference that an LGBTQ+ lender can make.
