Virginia LGBT - Lesbian Gay Bisexual & Transgender - Legal Issues André A. Hakes, a partner at Tucker Griffin Barnes, and Charlottesville gay rights activist understands what it's like to live in Virginia as an LGBT citizen. Through her extensive experience as a Virginia trial lawyer, her committed work for equality and justice, and her own identity as a member of the GLBT community, she has gained unique insights to the difficulties members of the community face as they form relationships, establish families, acquire property, transfer wealth, and when necessary, separate to go their own ways. Frequently asked questions about LGBT legal issues in Virginia: Is there a legal provision for gay divorce? Should I be concerned about being targeted by the police? How has Virginia law changed in recent years, with regard to LGBT issues? What should I be doing to protect my partner and family if something happens to me? Our fee structure: We handle cases on a flat fee or hourly basis. We offer initial consultations at our hourly rate. At the end of the consultation, we can determine the appropriate fee structure for your case, and you can evaluate our services and decide if you want to hire us. Tucker Griffin Barnes - Where deep insight equals powerful advantage.
