Trusted, compassionate care for your good health. If you've been looking for healthcare that is truly caring and focused on you as an individual, you've come to the right place. At FamilyCare of Kent, Washington, you'll find experienced, qualified nurse practitioners dedicated to helping with all of your health concerns. FamilyCare of Kent's nurse practitioners are all board-certified family nurse practitioners. They combine compassion and science to care for you and your loved ones. NPs take the time to get to know you and your family. Our nurse practitioners are here to help you overcome illness, and teach you how to prevent illness in the future. They can help you with virtually all of the typical and not-so-typical health concerns for which you might ordinarily see a medical doctor. If you've grown tired of impersonal treatment and assembly-line healthcare, take a closer look at FamilyCare of Kent today. Your healthcare couldn't be in better hands. We care for individuals of all orientations with respect, compassion, and skill. We create a safe environment for your healthcare needs. We provide genetic testing for familial cancers such as breast, ovarian, and colon cancer. We offer a full range of STD testing and treatments. We also offer all forms of non-permanent birth control.

Nurse practitioners' overall focus is on wellness and prevention, helping you to live a healthy life.
