

School of Human Potential

Web Based

Becoming a well-rounded person in our modern society is no easy task, we are much too busy working, raising families and trying to carve out a few moments of peace, let alone worry about becoming self-actualized. At School of Human Potential we get it! The reason for starting the School was to help people like you become well-rounded and self-actualized without taking a lot of time or money. We found and filmed world renowned experts and put their knowledge into easily accessible on-line courses spanning various topics of Mind, Body and Spirit. You can go at your own pace and access them on any device. We also realize people learn in different ways so we structured our company to cater to the way you do. We have the School of Human Potential if you like to take video/audio courses online, we have SHP Radio if you like to listen, we have SHP Press if you wish to read books and our Blog is chock full of great content from our Experts in all areas. To start go to www.schoolhp.com. Our hope is that you allow us to take you on a journey leading to a new you. Here's to you reaching your full potential!
