For over two decades I've built a business based on the importance of relationships. I am passionate about my work, and dedicated to providing my clients with the highest standard of services in helping my clients buy, sell and invest in real estate. My professional goal is to constantly innovate new ways to provide exceptional real estate consulting services through the use of cutting edge technology and blending this with years of real state experience in listing and selling residential properties. I am focused on providing personalized services, and committed to building strong, lasting, lifelong relationships one person at a time. I've spent 20 years as a professional realtor in San Diego county. I specialize in the metropolitan region with residential detached and attached single family residences, multi family/income property and mixed use commercial.

Specialization(s): Residential, Investment, Commercial
