Our attorneys are seasoned divorce lawyers and mediators, with substantial experience representing LGBTQ clients. Partner John Nachlinger, Esq., who is a member of the LGBTQ community, has substantial experience acting as mediator for gay and lesbian couples going through divorce or custody disputes. We emphasize mediation to traditional litigation (i.e., going to court). He completed an intensive 40-hour family law mediation training program and is a New Jersey Qualified Family Law Mediator. We take pride in helping people reach agreements, no matter how contentious the situation. Our entire legal team recognizes that divorce litigation is expensive and, for most people, a waste of resources. We have a very inviting office in the Metropark section of Iselin, NJ, where we take the time to listen to your needs and find a solution that is made for you and your family. If you need to go into the court system, we are experienced at handling all types of issues that impact the LGBTQ community. Our firm has handled more than 100 cases involving gay or lesbian couples going through a divorce, civil union/domestic partnership dissolution or partition action (division of joint property of unmarried couples). We also have significant experience handling custody cases of LGBTQ couples, including those involving psychological parent issues. With our firm, you are getting an entire team with the legal knowledge and experience to guide you through the often complicated world of LGBTQ family law. We are also experienced at handling stepparent and second parent adoption. Unfortunately, we still live in a world where certain places do not respect gay and lesbian parents. Adoption is the only legal mechanism to ensure you are treated as legal parents of a child everywhere in the country, and most of the world. We make the process easy and inexpensive. Call today to schedule a consultation. If you mention that you saw us on the Gay & Lesbian Directory, we will waive our $250 consultation fee and give you 10% off all legal fees.
